Fall 1998 Newsletter of the Land Margin Ecosystems Research Program

By: Land Margins Ecosystems Research Program

Contents: "LMER begins transition to LTER program" by John E. Hobbie; "Dominance of particle-attached bacteria in the Columbia River Estuary" by Byron C. Crump, John A. Baross, and Charles A. Simenstad; "Influence of baroclinic pressure gradients on vertical sheer estuarine tidal currents" by Julie Amft and Jackson Blanton; "Seasonal and spatial patterns in stable isotopic composition of Chesapeake Bay food web components" by James D. Hagy and Walter R. Boynton, "New LTER study sites include Plum Island Sound watershed, urban areas of Baltimore and Phoenix"; "Recent LMER publications"

Topic
Centers and Programs

Publisher
Land Margin Ecosystems Research Program Arizona Board of Regents

Rights
Licensed as Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-Share Alike 3.0 Unported. http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/3.0/

Format
Publications

Last Modified
Thursday, August 20, 2015 - 20:50

DC Date Accessioned
Thursday, September 11, 2014 - 23:12

DC Date Available
Thursday, September 11, 2014 - 23:12

DC Date Created
1998